

To Whom It May Concern,

I am writing to recommend Alex Hernandez for admission into the M.S. program in computer science at Cal Poly Pomona.

Alex was a great student in my CS 3110 Formal Languages and Automata in Spring and CS 4310 Operating Systems in Fall 2022 at CPP. The two classes are considered by many students to be among the hardest. He was active in class and frequented my office for questions. I am impressed by his consistent efforts to achieve better understanding of the subject. He got an “A” for both courses and well deserved it. I am confident in his great potential to make contributions in his future field and to society.

Please do not hesitate to contact me if further information regarding Kevin’s application is needed. Thank you.

Sincerely,

Qichao Dong
